

Welcome to The Bud Studio

Wanda, Tuesday 01 May 2012 - 13:46:57

Since 1996, I have been creating homepage designs and distributing as linkware. I, along with my dear friend, Cheri, became partners and distributed designs so that anyone with no knowledge of coding could put up a homepage and created-- Curiouser.com, theBud Studio, The Mad Tea Party. The Rose Garden, and Cheris World. Times have changed over all these years, and I am creating new as well as re-vamped designs from the past. I also am working on updating The Mad Tea Party which is our site for recipes and the Rose Garden for gardening tips and information. Cheris World is no more. However, I am the proud owner of her designs, and I have added them to the Bud Studio.

I have completely updated all the designs that are currently available as of April 30, 2012.

I have also updated the Terms & Conditions. As always the designs are linkware. If you would like to give a donation, you can click the donation button and you will be taken to Pay Pal.

There are still more templates coming. And as always, everything necessary will be in the downloaded zip file. Just add your content and you are good to go. I hope you enjoy!

Thank you.